The Launceston Historical Society

Bringing together people with an interest in history

The Society hosts guest speakers who discuss topics of local historical interest.

These talks – on the third Sunday of each month – from February to November (except March) are held in the Meeting Room, QVMAG Museum, Inveresk, at 2.00pm.

The Examiner – John West Memorial Lecture is presented on the third Friday in March.

The LHS Archaeology Group: projects involve archaeological excavations; remote sensing techniques; historical and map-based research; and landscape archaeology.

Excursions to areas of interest are conducted during the year.

To foster an interest in history amongst primary and secondary students, the Society organises an annual History Prize. Additionally, an annual prize is awarded to a first-year history student, currently studying at the Launceston Campus of the University of Tasmania.

Please note the Society does not undertake family or local history research but these organisations may be able to assist:
