

The Examiner* quarterly magazine articles provided by the Launceston Historical Society

In the City (Autumn & Winter 2017)

Northern Exposure (Spring 2017 to Autumn 2022)

	Edition	Page	Author	Published Title	Subject
1	Autumn 2017	8	Marion Sargent	Tales of the city: Animals in the park	City Park Zoo
2	Winter 2017	8-9	Marion Sargent	When Civic Square was at the city's heart	Eastern end of Civic Square
3	Spring 2017	22-23	Marion Sargent	From Muddy Creek to Rosevears	Rosevears' history
4	Summer 2018	22-23	Marion Sargent	Bridging the decades	Alexandra Bridge opening 1904
5	Winter 2018	26	Marion Sargent	The road to Cradle Mountain	Road to Cradle Mt 1929
6	Spring 2018	24	Marion Sargent	The lasting legacy of Charles St John David	Charles St John David
7	Summer 2018	22-23	Marion Sargent	Keeping the faith after 182 years	Kirklands Church and manse
8	Autumn 2019	24-25	Marion Sargent	A river runs through it	The village of Nile
9	Winter 2019	24-25	Marion Sargent	Discover Corra Linn's history	Corra Linn
10	Spring 2019	24-25	Marion Sargent	Macquarie House, an enterprising hub	Macquarie House
11	Summer 2019	24-25	Marion Sargent	The saga of the Post Office tower, clock and chimes	Launceston Post Office tower, clock and chimes
12	Spring 2020	16-17	Nigel Burch	Bridges of the South Esk	King's Bridge, Flinty Creek, Longford viaduct & rail bridge
13	Summer 2020/21	16-17	Marion Sargent	Ballrooms of romance, glitz and glamour	Carlisle and Palm Grove Ballrooms
14	Autumn 2021	15	Marion Sargent	Swamped by the mud	Mud in the Tamar Estuary
15	Winter 2021	16-17	Marion Sargent	A legacy of landmarks across the city	Johannes Martyn Haenke, architect
16	Spring 2021	17	Marion Sargent	Discover the history of Milton Hall	Naming of Milton Hall
17	Summer 2021/22	18	Marion Sargent	Swan Point and Paper Beach	Swan Point and Paper Beach
18	Autumn 2022	16-17	Marion Sargent	From Government Garden to City Park	City Park